

About La Chasse

Charlie & Catherine Cotton & their daughter Rilla run La Chasse as a classic small family business supplying the best Chefs in the South of England with Speciality Food. Much of it local to us and produced by Artisan Suppliers.

We like finding quirky, high quality ingredients that Chefs 'get'.

We have forged a great reputation for quality and service and have faced many challenges over the years alongside our customers and on that basis we are all in it together.

We thought the uncertainty of supplies & prices around Brexit were difficult to cope with - but THIS VIRUS has knocked us and our customers for six. Simply to survive, retain our business that we have strived so hard to build, and to retain our staff we are looking to a new market just to carry on, and if not to prosper to continue.

So we want to offer you the same, with slightly different products and service we would in normal times be offering our catering clients.

Please bear with us as we start a new business, trying, I guess, to compete with the supermarkets on home deliveries. This is easy in service, impossible on product range and very difficult on price (we simply don't have the buying power).

We are striving to get there and can offer free delivery for orders over £40 and a 10% discount on orders over £80.

We greatly appreciate your business and very much look forward to supplying you in the future.

P.S. We are very proud to have been supplying the Nurses & Doctors at Kings College Hospital, London with Granola for a very well deserved breakfast.
